Newark Boys Chorus to sing at campaign launch on June 28th at noon, -Jamesburg youth prison.

With this campaign, we are lifting our collective voices to transform New Jersey's youth incarceration system into a community-based system of care by closing Hayes and Jamesburg—the state's girls' youth prison and the largest youth prison for boys, respectively.

Incredibly, two-third of kids incarcerated in New Jersey's youth prisons are Black, even though Black and white youth commit similar offenses at similar rates.

The campaign will urge New Jersey to fundamentally re-imagine its youth justice system by reinvesting funds from closing Jamesburg and Hayes youth prisons into developing and strengthening community-based intervention, prevention, diversion, and alternatives-to-incarceration programming for our youth.
